Your home is valuable to you.

But what if ...

- ▶ Your home is damaged by a fire or storm?
- ▶ Your home is robbed?
- ▶ A guest is injured in your home?

Do you have the funds to rebuild or replace everything that was damaged or stolen? Insurance can protect you from such unpredictable events.

Buying homeowners insurance

The Missouri Department of Insurance has tools on its website to help you:

- ▶ Search for companies that sell homeowners insurance in your area.
- ▶ Review frequently asked questions about homeowners insurance.
- ▶ Search for a licensed agent or agency near you.
- ▶ Review consumer complaint history for insurance companies.

Review coverage

Review your policy annually to make sure you have enough coverage. You don't want to be underinsured if disaster strikes.

Homeowners basics

Homeowners insurance protects you from the unexpected burden of paying to rebuild your home should disaster strike. It also helps pay:

- ▶ Cost of personal property if it's damaged or stolen.
- ▶ Additional living expenses – such as a hotel – while your home is being rebuilt.
- ▶ Medical bills, up to a limit, if a guest is injured on your property.

The Missouri legislature created the program to provide insurance to property owners unable to find coverage from private insurance companies.

Speak Up

Take time to go over the details of your policy with your agent. If you think you need more coverage, tell your agent.

What's not covered by homeowners insurance

The right homeowners insurance coverage can bring peace of mind. However, there are a few things that do not fall under the standard policy, including:

- ▶ Flood damage
- ▶ Earthquake damage

You will need a separate policy to cover this type of damage.

Add it on

If you own expensive items or have a sump pump in your home, you may need extra coverage on your policy to ensure that your home is better protected. Here is coverage (called a rider or endorsement) you can add to your homeowners policy:

Sewer and drain backup

This covers damage caused by water backup from drains, sewers or sump pumps.

Jewelry, antiques, firearms

Expensive items need additional coverage. You may want to get them appraised for their value.

Home-based business

If you have a home business, this ensures your business items are better protected.

Parents of college students:

If your child lives on campus, your homeowners policy may cover his or her belongings.

You will be responsible for the policy deductible if you have a claim. A higher deductible can save you money on premiums.

Replacing your belongings

Actual cash value

The amount needed to repair or replace your belongings, minus depreciation. Depreciation is the decrease in value of property because of age or use.

vs.

Replacement cost

The amount needed to replace an item at today's price.

Will the insurance company always pay the personal property limit shown on your policy?

No. The policy limit is the most the company will pay.

HOUSEHOLD BELONGINGS

ACV vs. Replacement cost

(Most companies follow this formula)

How replacement cost works: An insurance company will first pay you the ACV of an item. Once the item is replaced and receipt submitted, the company will then settle up with you.

	Actual cash value		Depreciation		Replacement cost
 Television (1 year old)	$640	+	$160 (20%)	=	$800
 Leather couch (10 years old)	$1,120	+	$1,680 (60%)	=	$2,800

Replacement cost coverage may increase your premium.

Preparing a home inventory

A home inventory is a list of all your belongings – from socks to computers to furniture. If your personal property is damaged or stolen, having an inventory makes filing a claim with your insurance company much easier – you may even get a larger payment because your list will be more comprehensive.

Check it off: Tips to make your home inventory more useful

- ▶ Record specific details such as the serial numbers for electronic items and appliances.
- ▶ Photograph or videotape valuable items and attach them to your checklist.
- ▶ Update your inventory annually and when you make large purchases.

Download an inventory

The department's website offers three options:

Protecting against lawsuits

Accidents happen

Homeowners insurance gives you the protection you need in case someone is injured on your property.

It also protects you from:

- ▶ Lawsuits against you or your family members.
- ▶ Damage or injury your pets cause to others.

Protect everything else, even while away from home

Homeowners insurance covers your possessions even if they are damaged or stolen while off site – such as in a car.
